

The British shotgun team have a wealth of international medals to their credit.

The key to their success is regular training at their adopted home of Sywell Ranges near Northampton.

Ever looking forward, newcomers are actively encouraged to take part in the team's training program, and both domestic and international open competitions. Expert tuition is available from European and World Champions.

Pictured is British Team Captain Jane Capewell, breaking another clay during an open competition at Bordeaux, France, in May 2005.

