

The British Long Range Team after their silver medal winning performance in the 2005 World Championship.

British long range riflemen are some of the finest in the world.

