The slight threat of rain at the start of the day was the least of shooters problems... Strong winds prevailed and became more changeable as the day proceeded. Picking up small changes in wind strength when range flags are outstretched was difficult; at least the bend in the flag poles gave some indication of the stronger gusts!

John Whittaker's excellent start helped him secure first place by just one v-bull ahead of Arnaud Libert. For the most part the top scores shot steadily and consistently despite the conditions. It was interesting to note some marked changes in performance; some struggled in their second detail after promising starts, others got better measure of conditions and much improved in their second detail.

Congratulations to all for staying the course in very trying conditions!
